

St Mary's Catholic Primary School

Newsletter- Friday 11th November 2022

It was lovely to have our Eagles class children represent the school so beautifully at the Minster Church today. They shared a poem and their wreath to remember all those who sacrificed so much for us all. The rest of the school beautifully shared their poems that they wrote and these can be seen on the school website.

Robin class this week have been learning about Baptism and how we welcome a baby into the family, we even acted out a Baptism. We have learnt about our families and how they have changed from a baby to a child.

Woodpecker class has had an exciting week. First, they have started learning their Nativity play. They then did an experiment on the question 'which material will make the best boat'. They have also had a special visitor in to tell us about what primary schools were like in the 1950's.

There has been great focus from Owl class this week, they have shown fantastic engagement across all curriculum areas. In English, they have written a shared chronological report on Pompeii. The children have worked well in maths using a range of resources to support their learning of multiplication. Alongside Woodpeckers, year 2 have now been given their scripts for the Nativity, please support your child with learning their lines. Year 3 will play a part in the Nativity by providing musical accompaniment so please help your child to learn the songs.

Kestrel class in science this week learnt why the scientist Spencer Silver is famous. They enjoyed making glue in the classroom, they were surprised that the main ingredient was milk! In DT this week they practiced measuring accurately by making pastry which we turned into jam tarts - hopefully some of them made it home safely! We explored a digital map of Axminster in Geography and discovered that most of our houses had been built after 1950!

Eagle Class this week have been preparing for the Armistice Day service and enjoyed going to the church to remember with our community. In science they have learnt about evolution and the scientist Charles Darwin.
